SCHELLENBERG---BLUMENAU.

Very Pleasant Wedding Which Has Just

A very pleasant wedding in Brooklyn was that of Miss Bertha, daughter of Mr. and Valuable Horses Burned to Death.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Aug. 30, -The barn on the Spring Valley stock farm, nine uffles from the

SANGOR, Me., Aug. 80. -Judge Artemus Libbey,

TACK (MORRILL) AND THE BEAN-

STALK.

It's Quite Wonderful How that Ambitious Vegetable Has Grown of Late.

From Yesterday's Sporting Edition,

C PONSHIP

Occurred in Brooklyn.

THEY'LL ENTERTAIN AGAIN.

UNITED COUNCILS, L. OF H., PLEASED AT LAST NIGHTS SUCCESS.

Summer-Night's Festival of the John Hopfengartner Association—The James F. Retlly Association Held One Near By some of the Visitors Who Dropped In and Enjoyed Both Affairs.

The United Councils of the American Legion of Honor arrived at the Empire City Colosseum yesterday afternoon and continued their festivities till midnight. This was the first affair they have held with the different councils all together, and its success has encouraged the managers of the entertainment to resolve upon more of the same kind, which they announce will occur during the coming winter season.

Yesterday's programme began with variety of athletic games, consisting of a mile walk, broad and high jumps, tug-ofwar teams, &c.

The games were kept up until Prof. Luster arrived with his orchestra in the evening. The grand march was led by Floor Manager

Andrew Wilson and wife, and after that there was plenty of dancing.

The following ladies and gentlemen were noticed in different parts of the building:

The following ladies and gentlemen were noticed in different parts of the building:
Supreme Commander Enoch 8. Brown, Grand Commanuer Wm. Scherer, Grand Treasurer Wm. P. Tostevin, Grand Vice-Commander Thomas Lawson, Grand Guide Herman Toatford, Depuiy Grand Commander Jonn J. Scullion, P. H. Kesting, Miss Addle Butts, George Cook, Mrs. James Lawson, Grand Guide Herman Toatford, Depuiy Grand Commander Jonn J. Scullion, P. H. Kesting, Miss Addle Butts, George Cook, Mrs. James Jackson, E. Harrison, Mr. McCardy, Frank Brockway, Miss Annie Kilburn, Mathew Smito, Miss Ida Wilson, Edward Greene and wife, Miss Mclie Fanning, Miss Mame Fanning, Miss Mamy O'Brien, Miss Annie C'Brien, John Chambers and wife, G. L. Andrews, Miss A. Osthoff, Miss S. Mayer, William Dunn, of Boston; Mrs. Neilie Smith, J. Masterston, Miss Maggie Miller, Thomas Connerton, Miss A. Sweenle, Jaz. Tracy, Miss Jennie Lynch, John Tracy, Miss Mary Tracy, Ed Tracy and wife, Jeremiah Lynch, Miss Katle Lynch, Ed McClean, Miss Mary Maguire, John Carr, Thomas Quinn, Miss Lizzie Boylan, A. Patto, Eddie Harrison, William Tucker, Thos. O'Donnell, Hugh Riley, Miss Annie Connell, Wm. Keegan, James Boylan, Miss Annie Lyons, Frank Gleason, Miss Maggie Roeneford, George Anderson, Patrick Dily and Wife, John O'Donnell, James Maggie Roeneford, George Anderson, Patrick Dily and Wife, John O'Donnell, James M. Colins, Jack Fallon, Wm. Mann, Miss G. Helueman, George Heineman, Miss Maggie Gallagher, O. Darney and Wife, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Clark, E. Mertal, Miss Marie Kniley, Wn. Colins, Jack Fallon, Wm. Mann, Miss G. Helueman, George Heineman, Miss Maggie Gallagher, O. Darney and Wife, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Clark, E. Mertal, Miss Marie Kniley, Wn. Colins, Jack Fallon, Wm. Miss Maggie Gallagher, O. Darney and Wife, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Clark, E. Mertal, Miss Marie Kniley, Wn. Colins, Jack Fallon, Wm. Miss Maggie Gallagher, O. Darney and Wife, Mr. and Mrs. John McCartiny, James Holley, Mr. and Mrs. John McCartiny, John Callihan, Wilson, Miss Marie Kniley, Miss Annie Wilson,

THE HOPFENGARTNER ASSOCIATION.

Sulzer's Harlem River Casino was engaged by the John Hopfengartner Association last nigat, and a nice crowd of young people gathered therein. Prof. Wagner furnished the music, and after the grand march, which was led by John Lord and Miss Nellie Gibson, quite a few of the employees of E. W. Bliss & Co. called and were taken care of by President Heim, assisted by Vice-President Louis Jaudas, who made the boys happy by introducing them all around.

Among those present were:

E. Lesrans, L. C. Coen, Miss Vivian Schnitgen.

Among those present were:

E. Lezzauz, L. C. Cohn, Miss Vivian Schnitgen,
Mr. and Mrs. John Eagleson, Jr., and son, Josepa
Behnitgen, Kias Katle Gallagher, M. B. Hell, Fred
Scansoeder and wife, Standard Bearer John Hopfengariner and wife, Standard Bearer John Hopfengariner and wife, Standard Bearer John Hopfengariner and wife, St. Townsend and wife, John Gottgatran and wife, Harry Heim, Miss Steiner, Daniel Wood, Miss Mamie Motzan, John Baldwin and wife, James E. Gallagher, Miss Lizzle Gallagher, Louis Jaudas and wife, Mr. and Mrs.
George Wood, T. F. Gallagher and wife, C. A.
Matty and wite, W. S. Buckley and wife, P.
Mannion and wife, W. M. Gallagher and wife,
Mr. and Mrs. J. Genteman, J. S. Rice and wife,
Mr. and Mrs. Hooert
Jacques, F. H. Zimmerblen and wife, R. Tauscher,
J. Carroll and wife, J. Hart, Miss Mamie Sherwood, Miss Katle Collins, Miss Luin Moizan,
William McLaughlia and wife, Miss Carrie Herigel,
Taomas J. Boylan, Miss Mary Curtin, Joseph J.
Galvan, Miss Minnie Doyle, William Elisworth and wife, Henry Secathe.

James F. Ezillay Association.

Among those present were:

Assemblyman Timothy D. Sullivan and wife, Miss Lucy Flyne, Thomas Crimmins, J. J. Lampson, Mrs. Maggie Kane, John Shea, Andrew J. MacAvoy, Miss Julia Myers, Miss Mamie O'Connell, D. F. Harringson, Miss Hose Rice, Peter F. Reegan, Miss Nelle Rossell, Timothy F. Payne, Miss Mamie O'Brien, W. F. O'Brien and wife, Miss Mamie Shea, Alexander I. Young, M. O'Connor, Miss Mamie Jenkins, Miss Mary Furnace, T. J. Cronin, F. MoMullen, Peter Walsh, Miss Annie Downing, George Hill, Miss Mamie Kenney, George Waite, isaac Wolf, Miss Belle Jones, Ed Plageon, Frank Mullins, Miss Molle Braoley, Thomas Scanlon, Miss Annie Healy, J. J. Sampson, Miss Maggie Kane, Miss Annes Sullivan, W. Harnett, W. J. Ganow, Miss Ella Hollan, Eddie Collins, Miss Lotta Mylach, Wm. H. White, Miss Lulu Armstrong.

The officers of the association are as follows: Thomas Cook, President: George Burns, Vice-President: Daniel Reilly. Treas-urer: A. J. McAvoy, Financial Secretary; M. F. Cavanaugh, Recording Secretary; W. H. White, Sergeant-at-Arms,

THE EAST RIVER BUTCHERS. The East River butchers and their friends held high festival at Washington Park yesterday afternoon and evening. Shooting for prizes, in which the first and second honors were won by Peter Oechmann and John Heil, occupied the first part of their pro-

Dancing was the feature of the evening, and the following were among those who participated:

Capt. Henry Rub, Lieut. Louis Wachter, M. Sohn-ger, L. Frank, Samuei Crager, Max Mandel, Jacob

Schwarts, Henry Breunick, Jacob Mannheimer, S. L. Kern, Miss S. Heidemann, Miss A. Hann, Miss B. Strauss, Miss Sophie I. Hann, Miss M. Strauss, A. Pinkus, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Klein, Miss Many Shaw, Miss Mamie Steele, Miss Lilie Smith, Frank White, Miss Mamie Steele, Miss Lilie Smith, Frank White, Miss Irene Martin, Jos. Whiting, Chas. Brandt, Miss Ida Brown, Charles A. Lipp, P. Bardes, John Wettich, Miss Amelia Wettich, H. H. Newberger, William Morris, Tony Merris, Miss Rossina Merckel, Miss Dollie Schilling, Mt. and Mrs. P. Ayer and sons, G. Spindler and wife, Mr. and Mrs. H. Wolf, Loois Kern, Miss Nellie Naughton, Miss Emily Exler, Louis Lang, Miss Ida Wagner, Charles Colt, William Parder, Emil Behnes, Jake Miller, Miss T. Herrmann, Hans Mickel, William Beckmann, Miss Lizzle Blank, Miss Emma Holtz.

Afternoon and evening picuic of the H. O. G. S., of the Fifth Ward, at Lion Park, Sept. S.

The excursion annually tendered to mothers and children by agentieman of the east side is annually and the control of the cast side is annually stand Sound.

Island Sound.

Fourth annual excursion for the benefit of St.
Joseph's School to be given by the Yorkville
Volkafest Verein to Oriental Grove, on the Sound,
Sept. 3, Labor Day,
The annual chewder and games of the William
J. Boybam Association, of the Twenty-first Ward, will take place at Freygang's Point View, College Point, L. L., on Monday next,

To-Day at Saratoga.

The meeting ends to-day with the following pro-

The meeting ends to-day with the following programme:

First Race.—Purse $400, for all ages, entrance, $15 each, to the second; winning penalties of 5 lb.; non-winning and maiden allowances of 5, 10, 15 and 20 lb.; one mile.

Cat-clysm, 107; Climax, 105; Noonday, 105; Spinnette, 105; Jaubort, 103; LaClaire, 100; Queen of Minabeth, 55; Clare U., 89; Business, 54 lb.
Second Race.—Relief Stakes, for three-year-olds, at 5 the each that forfeit, $1,000 added, of which $200 to 5 the 50 seach that forfeit, $1,000 added, of which $200 to 5 the 50 seach that forfeit, $1,000 added, of which $200 to 5 the 50 seach that forfeit, $1,000 added, of which $200 to 5 the 50 seach that forfeit, $1,000 added, of which $200 to 5 the 50 seach that the following 107 lb., fallies 105 lb.; winners in 1885, when carried 100 out of the stakes; coft. sea shift to received $2100 to 100 states in 100 lb.; winners in 1885, when carried 100 states in 100 lb.; winners in 1885 of the value of $1,000, to central lb. extra, of two such races 10 lb.; horses not having won a race in 1885 of the value of $700 sllowed I lb.; maidene allowed 12 lb.; mile and the furious with the sea of the two seasons, but the season 100 states 100

To-Day at Gravesend.

will be continued to-day with the following programme:

First Race—Purse $1,000, for all ages; entrance $20 each to the second; one mile, —Terra Cotta, 118; Kingston, 118; Fore, 102 ho, 116; King Idle, 107; King Crab, 104; From, 102 ho.

Second Race—Handicap sweepstakes for all ages at $50 each, half fortest; $10 only if declared, with $1,000 added, of which $200 to the second; mile and a sinteenth.—Egmont, 119; Grisette, 114; Banbruge, 100; Specialty, 102; Tea Tray, 102; Bohemian, 100; Bordelaise, 1-0; Unique, 803; Bordelaise, 1-0; Bordelaise, 804; Bordelaise,

J. B. taggins on f. Laruna, a. by St. Martin, &c., 25 ib.
Chicago stable's ch. g. Santalens, 3, by St. Martin, &c., 25 ib.
Fifth Race—Purse $1,000, for two-year-olds: entrance, $20 sech, to the second; to carry 10 ib, above the scale; selling allowance; horses entered to be sold for $4,000 to carry full weight; three-quarters of a mile.—Brussels, 120; Marsac, 118; Silleck, 115; Clarissa, 112; Tiburon, 112; Cartoon, 112 b.
Sixth Race—Purse $1,000, for three-year-olds and upward; entrance, $30 sech, to the second; weights 10 be sold for $4,000 to carry full weight; one mile.—Himalay, 1.00 Argo, 117; Glempery, 115; McLaughtn, 114; Broughton, 112; Jennie McFarland, 110; Long Branch, 110; Idalia cols, 107; Elyton, 105; Matisfaction, 102 ib.

CHICAGO, Aug. 30. - James S. Babcock, of this city, has been left a large estate by his uncle on strange conditions. Luther James, the testator, died at Waukesha, Wis., June 25, and his will was admitted to probate at Ann Arber, Mich., Toesday. By it Babcock is left, $30,000 and the interest on over $250,000. This arrangement hasts for dve years, when Babcock, if he is married, obtains control of the estate; if not married, the property will be divided among twenty-one nieces and nephews, who also get $15,000 aplece by the will. Babcock is thirty-eight years old. He was his uncle's private secretary, and has had general control of his affairs for several years. admitted to probate at Ann Arbor, Mich., Tuesday.

On Mr. Snyder's Birthday. William Snyder, of 132 East One Hundred and Twenty-first street, was greatly surprised to find his house filled with friends, gathered in honor of his twentieth birthday. The party was given by his twentieth birthday. The party was given by the members of the Washington League, for which Mr. Snyder acts as Secretary. Among the many present were Geo. Sayder, President; M. Amer-man, Vice-President; Thomas J. Abg. Treasure; Messrs. John Wica, William Schreller, J. Schreller, H. Friedgen, H. Schoomaker, Miss A. Runolph, Miss A. Snyder, Miss L. Friedgen, Miss. I. Rudolph, Miss L. Schoomaker, Miss A. Snyder and many others.

FROM THE CITY'S WHIRL.

DRIFT CAUGHT HERE AND THERE BY "EVENING WORLD" REPORTERS.

A New York Ticket Speculator Who Got Even with a Sharp One.

Mike Driscoll used to be a familiar figure at the entrance to Ned Harrigan's Park Theatre. He was a "ticket speculator" in front of

He was a "ticket speculator" in front of the house.

But this season he has had the "refreshment" privilege on the old fron pier at Coney Island.

Bartenders and waiters are always easy to get at Coney Island, but sober, industrious and honest ones are searce. Mike engaged a prepossessing fellow one day last week and he went to work with an energy commendable.

But Mike, as is his custom, kept a weather eye on the new man and became satisfied he went to work with an energy commentable.

But Mike, as is his custom, kept a weather eye on the new man and became satisfied within forty-eight hours that he was "knocking down" a percentage out of the business he was doing that would soon bankrupt his boss. So, after two days, Mr. Driscoll approached him with the amount of two days' wages in his outstretched hand.

He said, quietly: "You may go to-day, I guess."

He said, quietly: "You may go to-day, I guess."
Not in the least sbashed, and without comment, the fellow pocketed his wages and removing his apron invited his late employer to have a drink with him.

Mike doesn't relish being beaten, but he accepted the invitation, and several potations tollowed till the late waiter grew talkative.

"Look'ee here, Mike Driscoll. You think you're fly, but I made $18 clear in two days on overcarges and holding out," boasted the fellow.

Mike acknowledged the corn with an ill grace, and suggested that they go down in that portion of West Brighton called "the Bowery."

They went, pausing here and there to im-

Bowery."

They went, pausing here and there to imbibe, until they reached Stub Reynolds's place, where boxing and sparring is the regular bill of fare.

Here Mike boasted of the powers of his "friend" with a wink to Stub, and offered to lay $5 that he could "do up" any man in the house.

to lay $5 that he could "do up" any man in the house.
Old Stub himself was induced to put on the gloves with Mike's unknown, and in about as long as it takes to say "Scat!" the ex-waiter was sprawled on the floor and one of the setters had emptied a trough of beer into his face.
Mike "set 'em up all 'round." winked quietly and remarked as he pocketed his change and gazed on the still unconscious unknown "He'll come around all right, I guess. When he does give him Mike Driscoll's compliments and tell him that when he steals from another boss he'd better keep it to himself."
Then he returned to his pier with an air of Spring Valley stock farm, nine miles from the city, was burned Tuesday, and eighteen head of fine horses perished. The fine stallion Brignoil Wilkes was lost; also he, valued at $6,000; Mary C., $5,000; Vassar Girl, Madam Hornewood and others. A. C. Remey, owner of the farm, declares that $60,000 would not have purchased Brignoil Wilkes. On many of the animals air. Remey placed no price, and he estimates his entire loss in excess of $50,000, on which the insurance is but $3,500 in the Pracaix of Brooklyn and $2,000 in the Home of New York.

to himself."

Then he returned to his pier with an air of a man satisfied with himself and even with

A Wild Westerner Knocked the Wind Out of the Flannel-Shirt Trade.

"The flannel-shirt brigade in this neighborhood was never so numerous as it has been during the past summer," said a man in the business a day or two ago; "but there's nothing that gives the trade a black eye so quick as a few days of this sort of weather. We were in clover a month ago and the Chinese laundryman was in despair, but now the tables have turned and the almond-eved Celestial is catching on to the profits of the Celestial is catching on to the profits of the shirt-boiling industry once more.

'Speaking of flannel shirts reminds me of an incident that occurred last week when I tried very hard to sell one more shirt out of the stock to a robust young Westerner who came in with a friend and wanted to see something cheap. He said he was going to spend a week at the seashore before he went West, and had got everything he needed but a flannel shirt.

"'Well,'I said to him, here's a nice one for $5; that's the cheapest we have in stock.'

"This seemed to knock him out completely, and as he staggered half around he hit himself on the side of the neck with his hand and observed to his companion:

"Say, Jim, did you feel anything strike you there?"

"Say, Jim, did you feel anything strike you there?"
"Jim didn't seem to know what to say, so the other fellow opened on me with:
"Look here, mister, what are you trying to give us? Five dollars for a week's wear of flannel shirt? Why, I got more than two menths' good wear out of the last flannel shirt I had, and I only paid 65 cents for it. That's my price, and I don't go above it. We come from the West, we do."
"I assured him that it was all right, but he wouldn't believe me and went off thad.
"He seemed to think it was a job put up by the war-tariff people to plunder him, and his parting shot was: Well, if I can't get a flannel shirt in this blasted town for less than $5, I'll be blowed if I don't wear one of my old white shirts and get hee bolled'out. I ain't goin' for to encourage any such extravaain't goin' for to encourage any such extravagant fancy prices."

I haven't had a call for a fiannel shirt

A Snur and Cool Retreat Afforded at the Bridge Promenade.

At the New York end of the Brooklyn Bridge there are a number of seats on the promenade part of the gigantic crossway. It is a cool retreat. The overhanging ironwork makes a perfect shade, and it is almost work makes a perfect shade, and it is almost quiet there compared to the rush on the street. These seats are occupied by people reading the papers or idly resting.

"Are the people allowed to sit there as long as they want to?" asked a man of a policeman at the entrance to the bridge.

"Oh, yes, so long as they behave themselves. The seats are put there for the people to sit on."

There is something more exclusive about a seat at the bridge entrance than is one in City Hall Park.

The bridge sitters are half a notch higher in the gamut of respectability than the

The bridge sitters are half a notch higher in the gamut of respectability than the loungers in the park. Some of them do not cross the bridge at all. They pay their penny to get in strike a seat, and have a good old shady rest while they read the afternoon or morning papers.

Generally, they who sit there are men. A woman is seldom seen among the people who avail themselves of this retreat.

Dock-Rats on a Still Fishing Quest for Spilled Cocoanuts.

"Did you ever take the trouble to watch he 'rats' along the docks on the East River?" asked an ex-sea captain of an Even-ING WORLD reporter recently. The reporter confessed that he had not and cinating.

It is wonderful how the judgment of a wise man may be warped by a frivolous woman, especially if she be endowed with a pretty face and an attractive figure.

Mr. Thorpe talked of his literary prospects—spoke of the success of his last work, and mentioned another already in press, which he hoped would be even more successful.

When Mr. Thorpe ascended to his room, Mrs. Martin asked Melissa how she liked him.

asked the old gentleman what there was curious about the so-called "dock-rata."

"Well, there are many things: but probably you wouldn't have the time to see them. Watch 'em some time and you'll see something interesting."

A few days later the reporter happened to be down in that portion of the city and he saw a gang of 'longshoremen unloading a vessel that was laden with cocoanuts.

Down near the end of the dock was a miscellaneous collection of boys whose ages ranged from ten to eighteen years, of the class whom the ex-sailor man had referred to as "rats."

Two of them had climbed down the side of the pier, and while they hung on with one the curious about the so-called "dock-rata."

A FIRST MATINEE IN LONDON.

A FIRST MATINEE IN LONDON.

The CASE

OF "A LEGAL WRECK."

General Newsy Gossip About Old and New Plays—Report That Miss Clayton Herself Dramatized "The Quick or the Dead"—"A Reling Passien" Goes Out —Deckstader Says He's Back to Stay.

The eccentricities of Gillette's new play.

The eccentricities of Gillette's new play,

A Legal Wreck," seem to have proved a welcome surprise to the metropolitan public. There is no question as to the success of the piece; in fact three nights during the present week the significant legend, "Standing-room only," has been obvious outside the theatre. The mine of exuberant comedy the theatre. The mine of exuberant comedy in the play is now being thoroughly worked and with most satisfactory results. Gillette has received a funny letter from Charles Overton in London. Mr. Overton attended to the business of presenting "A Legal Wreck" in London for copyright purposes some three weeks ago. He takes the opportunity of giving a few points to American authors envious to produce their plays at matinces in London. Overton must have had a hard time. It appears that the manuscript of the play only arrived on Tuesdap, the matince being arranged for the following Saturday. One of the charges on the bill sent to Gillette was "£2 for cabs to find manuscript;" another, so Overton savs. "Refreshments during finding of manuscript, 10s." The Lord Chamberlain then had to be attended to. He is always allowed two days to read a piece. A conditional license is occasionally granted if the person presenting the play is known. "In that case," says Overton. "the play can be produced, and if it turns out to be unfit for production the Lord Chamberlain kills the person. The influence necessary to get this conditional license cost £5, and refreshments during the getting of it, £1 10s." The actors only got their parts on the Friday evening. They played in "A Legal Wreck" the following afternoon. Overton declares that he had to pay 12 shillings for cabs to convey people to the theatre and 15 shillings to take them home again, as some of them required gentle handling after having seen the play. in the play is now being thoroughly worked that of Miss Bertha, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. Blumenau, of 160 Smith street, and Charles B., son of Mr. and Mrs. B. Schellenberg, of 220 Duffield street. The ceremonies took place at the State Street Synagogue, and were conducted by the Rev. William Sparger. The ushers were G. Blumenau and H. Blumenau, brothers of the bride; J. Wechsler, E. Stein, N. Schellenberg and Charles Strauss.

Among those who witnessed the ceremony and were present at the reception at Saengerbund Hall were:

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Goldstein, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Schott and family, of Chicago; Miss Clara Blumenau, Miss Carrie Conn., of Newars; Miss Carrie Schellenberg, with her brothers Julius and Moc. Mr. and Mrs. Max Blumenau, Counsellor Jacob Brenner and wife, Mr. and Mrs. H. Goldsmith, Mr. and Mrs. A. Wechsler, Mr. and Mrs. E. Osterman, Mr. sno Mrs. A. Van Dorp, Mr. and Mrs. A. Heiler, the Misses Belle and Eve Heiler and brother, Mr. and Mrs. L. Stein, Mr. and Mrs. A. Bauw, Pail Nathan, Miss Sarah Bruckheimer, Mr. and Mrs. L. Rosenberg, Mr. and Mrs. A. Bauw, Pail Nathan, Miss Sarah Bruckheimer, Mr. and Mrs. L. Rosenberg, Mr. and Mrs. L. Goldstein, Mr. and Mrs. J. Flato, Mr. and Mrs. Morris litrsch, Mr. Furst and nice, Mr. and Mrs. Morris litrsch, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Stern and adaghter.

It is said that Miss Estelle Clayton berself It is said that Miss Estelle Clayton herself dramatized "The Quick or the Dead." in which she is to appear at the Fifth Avenue Theatre. Miss Clayton wrote "A Sad Coquette," which she produced at a matiness the Union Square Theatre some time ago, and also the barefooted play "Favette," in which Miss Clayton appeared until (uncharitable people say it) she caught cold in her feet.

Giguère, the young Frenchman who skipped away from E. M. Gardiner to the "Kindergarten" company, telegraphed to Mr. Gardiner yesterday: "Must have $20 to pay manager before I can leave company." Gardiner was furious. "He got $20 out of me once," he said, "but he won't do it again. I think I can bring him back for less than that."

before whom a hearing was had last week on the granting of an injunction restraining the Postal Cable Company from constructing a line of tele-graph from Mattawankeag to Vacceboro along the European and North American Railroad, has rendered a decision against the injunction. Mesars. Aborn and Petrie, two enterprising young managers, left the metropolis with a carefully selected company last night to begin their tour with "The Ruling Passion." This play was first produced in London, and it has been seen in Ban Francisco. Mesars. Aborn and Petrie intend to make it known throughout the country. It contains some very lively spectacular effects, among them a balloon ascension, and to these effects the young managers have wisely paid a great deal of attention. "The Buling Passion" will come to New York City later in the season. It opens Monday night at the Bijou Theatre, Pittsburg, and then goes to Virginia. It will be played in the best theatres.

The return of "Twenty Maidens to One Dude" Company, after a triumphant season of two weeks, caused H. Clay Miner and T. Henry French a little pang apiece. The company was booked to appear at their theatres in September. Mr. Miner has filled the week they left vacant; Mr. French hopes to do so soon.

Miss Annie Macgregor, a graduate from the School of Acting, will possibly be seen with Miss Julia Anderson this season. Miss Anderson appeared at a benefit in Wilkesbarre, Pa., some time ago. She asked Miss Macgregor to help her. At 11 o'clock one morning she gave the young lady parts in one act of "Fate," one act of "The Marble Heart" and one act of "Inez" to learn. That evening Miss Macgregor played the parts. ing Miss Macgregor played the parts.

Miss Lizzie Ingram says that the statement that Stephen Leach, manager of the "Broken Hearts" company, broke her trink and foiled to pay salary must have emanated from some enemy of either Mr. Leach or herself. The statement came from Mrs. Ingram, the young lady's mother, and Mrs. Ingram, the young lady's mother, and presumably her best friend. If, after the publication of the story on Tuesday night, Messrs, Leach and Alliger paid Miss Ingram her salary when they met her, no one rejoices more than The Evening World. Miss Ingram is a charming little girl and should be well treated.

Lew Dockstader was on Broadway yesterday, and he did not look particularly miserable. "I never take the trouble to deny what people say about me," he declared. "My actions speak for themselves. That trouble with Foot was simply this: I owe him money. He sent me in a most exorbitant bill and I declined to pay it. He tried to garnishee the receipts in Buffalo. He thinks they are there still, but they are not. I came away with them. My dear fellow, I am always delighted to pay my just debts, If I owe a man a dollar (without a smile on his face) it horrifies me, I assure von. We have travelled 1,200 miles and we have not come back broke." That is a great thing, let me tell you. We open our season here next Thursday, and we have come to stav." Dockstader's company will include Sweatman. Dan Collyer, George Marion, Gus Mills, Arthur Moreland. Barry Maxwell. Dockstader himself. Franks Marion, Ed French, Baker and Jones, Manning and Davis, Tom Dixon, Jose, Frillman, Davis, France and Gailard.

Mr. Giguere writes to THE EVENING WORLD Mr. Gignère writes to The Evening World from Hartford, denying Mr. Gardiner's assertions. He says he never borrowed a penny from that gentleman, and that the wig belongs to Charles Girard, of the "ZoZo" company. He declares that he had Mr. Gardiner's consent to join the Thatcher, Primrose & West combination last season, and says that his reputation is too good to be exchanged for $20 and a wig. Mr. Giguère, however, does not explain why he left Mr. Gardiner in the lurch this season. The manager has a contract with him, as clear as any contract could be.

BRIGHT BITS OF CHILD TALK.

Fature.

The late Lord H- lost his arm at Ligny. After his return to England, on the occasion of his dining with his brother-inlaw at a country vicarage in Kent, his little niece, then in the nursery, was cautioned to make no personal remark to him on his lost arm. She obeyed orders implicitly till she went to kiss him "Good-night," then she said: "I haven't said a word about your poor arm, have I?"

Freddy is a little one of seven years' growth, the son of a minister, who, with his wife has just arrived at a new field of labor. Hearing his mother say to his father that she had been deceived by his saying the parsonage was a three-story building, when in fact it was only two, he said: "Ma!" "Well. Freddy?" "The kitchen is one." 'Yes." "This floor's two and the story that pa told is three." A K YOU $50 OR $60 FOR. PLEASE ASK TO SEE THIS LINE OF GOODS AND GET SAMPLES TO SHOW YOUR TAILOR TO VERIFY OUR STATS-

In the Natural History Class. A short time ago, in a school in the north of England, during a lesson on the animal kingdom, the teacher put the following question: "Can any boy name to me an autimal of the order ederdata; that is, a fronttooth toothless animal?" A boy, whose face beamed with pleasure at the prospect of a good mark, replied: "I can." "Well, what is the animal?" "My grandmother," replied the boy, in great gice.

She Had Great Capacity.

A gentleman, meeting a pretty little child on the parade at Brighton Beach, was so struck with her appearance that he bought her some sweets. After giving her two or three he said: "There, you musn't have any more, because you are such a little girl." The child, who was by no means satisfied with the number she had received, at once replied: "I'm a little girl, but I've got a big stomach."

Refused the Democrat's Challenge.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 29, -The Kansas Democratic Central Committee has sent a challenge to the Chairman of the Republican Committee for a Martin, the Democratic candidate for Governor, and L. U. Humphrey, the Republican nominee for the same office. To this there was no reply, and Aug. 24 Secretary Galloway sent a second note to Chairman Booth asking for some answer. To-day, after two days of secret conference, the Chairman of the Escutive Committee of the Republican State Central Committee replied that Mr. Humphrey's programme had been made out long agr., and the committee did not deem it advisable to alter it, particularly as the Democratic party was not the only other political organization in the state. Martin, the Democratic candidate for Governor

Bent-Motor in Convention

[SPECIAL TO THE WORLD.]
ROCHESTER, N. Y., Aug. 20.—Yesterday the Empire State Convention of Deaf-Mutes was held in the Council Chamber of the City Hall. One Settiney addressed the assemblage in sign language, and Dr. Peet, of the New York Deaf and Dumb School, read the speech sloud for the benefit of the visitors who could hear. In the afternoon Prof. Chamberlain read a very interesting paper on 'My Experience and Conclusions as a Lip Reader."

A Man of His Word.

" Promise me, John, that you will not get into any terrible railroad accidents, or be burned to death at a hotel. Promise me that, John, or my [John promised faithfully that he would not.]

Nicholas Engler, the confessed murderer of old Frederick Hamm, commits suicide in Rochester.

An insane Frenchman named Garnier enters the German Embassy at Paris and shoots at the Secretary Pairchild decides to permanently as sign a customs officer at Newburg for the entry of loreign vessels. Harry Hill's old establishment at Houston and Crosby streets is sold to Breen & Nason, the man-

Crossy streets is sold to Breen & Nason, the man-ulacturers, for $120,000.

Dr. Willard H. Morse, a Westfield, N. J., physi-cian, is airested on a charge of issuing fraudulent analyses of patent medicines. A summer boarding-house takes fire under suspicious circumstances at Liberty, N. Y., and an elderly man dies in the flames. Senator John Sherman is said to be about to be-come the head of a new national banking-house in Chicago with a capital of $5,000,000. Mrs. Mary C. Hume, wife of Prof. R. W. Hume, of Long Island City, dies of an apopiectic stroke while bataing in the surf at Shinnecock Bay. A rousing reception is given by the people of Dunin to the Cork band which refused to play "God Save the Queen" in London.

Claus Spreckels, the millionairs sugar refiner, occupies a special car on a wrecked train on the Union Facific road, but escapes in jury.

Bookkeeper C. T. Clarke, of this city, who escape i from Middletown Lunatic Asylum two weeks ago, is rearrested in Jersey City.

"The World Moves."

Maintained Galileo, when his tormentors racked him for advocating the true system of Copernicus. Certain fol-lies hold out, however, against the illumination of dis-covery and experience. There are hosts of people who, because they have adopted certain principles, continu to swallow them to their dring day in defiance of the laws of common sense. Mercury, drastic purgatives, apper-potent narcotics and solutives, though they have

Sayings of the Sages and Humerlets of the FALL AND WINTER

AT THE LOWEST PRICES EVER OFFERED FOR THE FINESE IMPORTED FABRICS.
WE HAVE JUST BOUGHT AT HALF THE IM-PORTATION VALUE FROM A PROMINENT IM-PORTER RETIRING FROM BUSINESS ALMOST HIS ENTIRE STOCK OF THE VERY FINEST ERG-LIBE, FRENCH AND SCOTCH SUITINGS, IN OR-DER TO GIVE OUR FALL BUSINESS AN EARLY START WE NOW OFFER A SUIT OF OLOTHES FROM ANY OF THE VARIOUS STYLES IN THIS SUPERB LOT OF GOODS FOR TWENTY DOLLARS.

THIS MEANS A SUIT, GUT AND MADE TO YOUR MEASURE, HANDSOMELY TRIMMED AND GUARANTRED TO FIT. IN FACT, AN ELEGANT SUIT OF CLOTHES, GOT UP IN THE HIGHEST STYLK OF THE TAILOR'S ART FOR JUST ABOUT WHAT THE GOODS ALONE ARE WORTH STUDY. WHAT THE GOODS ALONE ARE WORTH, SUCH AS THE ORDINARY STH AVE. TAILOR WOULD

GEO. A. CASTOR & CO.,

BROADWAY AND 18TH ST. 267 BROADWAY, OPP. CITY HALL PARK.

BUSINESS NOTICES. THOSE WHO ARE WORN OUT, RHEUMATIO and feeble should use PARKER'S GINGER TONIG. - PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM will save your ball.

ACADEMY. TO-NICHT.

To-Nicht.

The Front of the Name of Management of the Name of Management of the Name of the THE OLD HOMESTEAD.

THE GREAT SEMI-CYCLORAMA.

THE NATURAL SORNES.

256. ACADEMY Too.
PRIORS:
BAURDAY. OLD HOST-STAD MONDAT.

CASINO. BROADWAY AND SOTH BT.
Matinee Saturday at 2.

HOUSES CROWDED AT EVERY PERFORMANCE.

NADJY.

RECEIVED WITH ROARS OF LAUGHTER. ROOF GARDEN CONCERT AFTER THE OPERA.' Admission 50c., including both entertainments. MANHATTAN BEACH. FIRE OF LONDON

PAIN'S GRAND PIREWORKS,
IVERY EVEN'S EXCEPT SUNDAYS & MONDAYS.
NEW SCRIPS, NEW PERFORMERS,
A WONDERFUL SPECTAULS. A RIGHT ROYAL TRIUMPH.

IMRE KIRALFY'S NERO ; FALLOFROME. Seint George, Staten Island. Boats from the Battery, 10c.

14 TH ST. THKATEK. CORNER STH AVE
Every night this week.
Matiness Wednesday and Saturday.
The talented young actress.
ANY WILKES,
in Nelson Wheateroft's successful play.
Gallery, 75c.; Reserved, 38c., 50c., 78c., 51, 5c.

Gallery, 75c.; Reserved, 35c., 50c., 75c., 51.

NIBLO'S. E. G. GILMORV, Lesses and Manager.
Reserved Seats—Orobestra Circle and Balcony—Mas.
Bolosay Kiralfy's Wonderful Speciacie.

MATHIAS SANDORP.
Beautign Balleta. Startling Novelties. Original Music.
MATINEES WEDNESDAY AND SATURDAY

Kxtra Matines Labor Day, Monday, Sept. 3. MINER'S PEOPLE'S THEATRE.

MINER'S PEOPLE'S THEATRE.

Matines Bowert, opposite Spring street.

Miss, McKER RANKIN in Saturday.

THE GOLDEN GIANT MINE,
Baturday.

Next Week—TUTEIN in STRUCK GAS.

Extra Matines Monday (Labor Day), Sept. 3. Extra Matines Monday (Labor Dey), Sept. 3.

WINDSON THEATR, BOWERY, NEAR OANAL Huiliant Froduction
Of the Exciting Drama, IN HIS FOWER,
Next Week—Around the World in 80 Days.

BATTLE OF GETTYSBURG,
19th st. and 4th ave.

PIFTH AVENUE TREATICE.

PHILIP
HERNE.

Bowritten, 201230 inches.
Presented to each visitor
Presented to

RAND OPERA-HOUSE. JIM THE PENMAN. Wed. and Bea. WALLACK'S.

Mecaull opera company.

Mosday, 84 Pt. 3, Boccaccio.

POOLE'S THEATRE.

104. DION BOUCICAULT'S Mainese Mon., Wed., Soc. 74B. OOLLEEN BAWN.

50c. Mr. J. H. RYAN as MYLES. Baturday.

OSTER 4 BIAL'S CONCERT HALL SOWEN MARSDEN, O'CONOR.
Brails Brothers, A. C. Buncan, Tatali, Lillie Varn. A LEGAL WRECK.

Solvenings at 8.30, Matiness S-turdays.

STAR.
STAR.
BROADWAY AND ISTHER
FROSTRER OF Chestra Circle and Balcour, Sa.
JOHNSON & SLAVIN'S MINSTERIA,
MATINERS WEDNESDAY AND SATTREBAY.
MONDAY, Sept. 3-ROBERT DOWNING.
BROADWAY THEATER.
CORNER 41ST ST.
I. ST. TWO WEEKS.
THE QUEEN'S Mate OFERA COMPANY. H. R. JACOBS'S 3D AVE. THEATRE.

Matiness Monday, Wednesday and Saturday, STREETS OF NEW YORK, Sept. 3-H. R. Jacoba's Wages of Sin Co. H. R. JACOBS'S THALLA.

Matine's Monday, Wednesday and Saturday,
FRANK I. FRAYNKI MARDO.

Sept. 3—MY PARTNER.

THEATRE COMIQUE. 125th st., between 2d and Lexington aves.—Kate Cirkon and Chus. A. Etevenson, accompanied by A. H. H. Lexington aves.—Kate Cirkon and Chus. A. Etevenson, accompanied by A. H. H. Lexington accompany. THE WORLD AGAINST HER.
Noti week—Lost in New Yors. Makines Saturday.
THEIS'S. THEIS'S. THEIS'S. THEIS'S.
THEIS'S. THEIS'S. THEIS'S. THEIS'S.
THE ST. THEIS'S. THEIS'S. THEIS'S.
THE FINEST FAMILY RESORT IN THIS OUT.
THE MONSTER ORCHESTRION.

THE MONSTER ORCHESTRION.

LYCEUM THEATRE, 4TH AVE AND 25D ST. 3, 15
E. H. SOTHERN - A5 - LORD CHUMLEY.

EDEN MUSEE WAX WORLD.

REDHLY1 NACEIS

GYPS & BARO.

WORTH'S PALACE MUSEUM, 106 & 108 E. 18th et.

Open 1 to 11 P. M. Admission, 10 cents. ERUNALEM AND THE CRUCIFIXION.
THE GREATEST OF ALL PANGRAMAS.
Madison are and 59th st. Made cool artificially.

BROOKLYN AMUSEMENTS.

ZIPP'S CASINO, KIM PLACE, COR. FULTON ST. Kilie Family Resort, Extra Grand Bill. Guistinger Double Quartet, Fannie Reynolds, Ada Kruse, Juhn Carroll and Minule Schult.

The facts did not gain publicity.

INCOMPATIBILITY.

oh, dear me, it is so vexatious—so trying!"

"Hark! There goes the bell, mother. I guess one of your applicants has arrived.
Do, pray, go to the door, mamma; I look so much like a fright."

Mrs. Martin's visitor was a man verging

Heman; Or, at least, have always borne that reputation."

"I have not yet exactly settled upon terms." replied Mrs. Martin, secretly pleased with the language and appearance of the applicant; "but I will endeavor to make them reasonable and satisfactory. How soon would you like to come, if you come?"

upon thirty, broad-shouldered, with the slightest possible stoop in them, with great, luminous eyes, that might have been created purposely for a poet. He was not handsome, but there was something grand and striking

ELISSA, I have done it!"

"Done what, mother?"

"What we have been talking about for a week, to be sureadvertised for a few genteel boarders. It was very humiliating. I own; but our necessities were so urgent that we were left no other alternative but to starve. Poverty! oh, dear me, it is so vexatious—so trying!"

ELISSA, I have done but there was something grand and striking in his appearance.

"Have I the pleasure of addressing Mrs. Martin?" he inquired, modestly.

"Thank you, sir." said the widow, fluttering: "I am the person you have alluded to. Will you walk in, sir?"

"Excuse me! I am in something of a horry. But I saw your advertisement in the paper, and thought it might be such a place as I have long looked for—board and lodging: "I am the person you have alluded to. Will you walk in, sir?"

"Excuse me! I am in something of a horry. But I saw your advertisement in the paper, and thought it might be such a place as I have long looked for—board and lodging: "I am the person you have alluded to. Will you walk in, sir?"

"Excuse me! I am in something of a horry. But I saw your advertisement in the paper, and thought it might be such a place as I have long looked for—board and lodging: "I am the person you have alluded to. Will you walk in, sir?"

"Excuse me! I am in something of a horry. But I saw your advertisement in the paper, and thought it might be such a place as I have long looked for—board and lodging: "I am the person you have alluded to. Will you walk in, sir?"

"Excuse me! I am in something of a horry. But I saw your advertisement in the paper, and thought it might be such a place as I have long looked for—board and lodging: "I am the person you have alluded to. Will you walk in, sir?"

"Excuse me! I am in something of a horry. But I saw your advertisement in the paper, and thought it might be such a place as I have long looked for—board and lodging: "I am the person you have alluded to. Will you walk in, sir?"

"Excuse me! I am in something of a horry. But I saw your advertisement in the paper,

"Immediately, madam. To-morrow morning, if it suits your convenience."
"Very well. We shall be prepared to receive you."

At precisely 8 the next morning a dray stopped before the door, containing two trunks, a large chest and a melodeon. With the drayman's assistance his effects were speedily removed to a handsome front room on the second floor.

At 1 o'clock Mr. Thorpe came down to dinner, and was introduced to Melissa.

The young lady did the handsome and, in the opinion of Mr. Thorpe, was really fascinating.

It is wonderful how the indement of a wise

"Oh, yes, he is very clever." replied that roung lady, languidly, "and you know how

I detest clever people. They always make me feel as if I was in a strait-jacket."

Mr. Thorpe's book came out, and in six weeks it had run through five editions, and the author's percentage amounted to over a thousand dollars, with fair prospects of as specified doubling.

BERNERY

the author's percentage amounted to over a thousand dollars, with fair prospects of as specially doubling.

He was very attentive to Melissa, dividing his time pretty equally between that young lady and his literary pursuits; so that, in less than two months from the date of his becoming a genteel boarder at Mrs. Martin's, he and the daughter were engaged.

Another foringht slipped by, and they were privately married. This was followed by a tew weeks of honeymoon at Cape May, where Mr. Thorpe had previously spent a brief sojourn.

Mrs. Martin had added two more genteel boarders to her list—one, a city clerk; the other, a handsome young medical student, from the country.

Dr. Frank Hayden was a young gentleman of fast proclivities, with a small patrimony, recently inherited.

Mrs. Martin thought him very agreeable, and he was duly installed as a boarder on the return of Mr. and Mrs. Thorpe from their wedding tour.

The moment the bridal pair were safely at home the young wife was left to enjoy here is self as best she might, while Mr. Thorpe withdrew himself from her society and toiled a way at his manuscripts. Instead of making an equal division of his time between Melissa and his literary labors, as he had been content to do previous to his marriage, he could go now only find leisure for meals and the few brief mements occasionally consumed in the boarders' sitting room before retiring.

Mrs. Thorpe, in the mean time left pretty much 'to herself, and sincerely believing, in the retireme fickleness of heart, that she had committed a great folly in sacrificing herself, o Mr. Thorpe, was ever ready when occasion tfiered, to hint at the want of sympathy in thoir married relations, and to endeavor through various cunning artifices to excite he commiseration of the handsome young doctor, who, from the start, had contrived to spend some hours of each day in the charming society of the neglected young wife.

Seeing thus how matters stood with the newly wedded bride, Dr. Frank Hayden was by no means slow in assimilating himself to her tastes, and the natural result was that there was no end to the drives, balls, operas and promenades after that—and the unsus-

"Will you not read it to me?" sobbed Mrs. Martin, grasping his arm convulsively. "No!" replied the husband, hoarsely, "but I will give you the substance. She has eloped with Dr. Hayden, and says that our incompatibility of temperament is the cause. She will never return and advised us to make as little stir about the affair as possible."

The facts did not gain publicity.

Mrs. Martin went into the country and Mr. Thorpe went abroad. Three years after, as he was walking through one of the busiest thoroughfares of San Francisco, he beheld a gaudily dressed feinale reel out of one of the numerous drinking salcons, and before are one could interpose to prevent the tragter disaster, she plunged forward into the street and was crushed beneath the ponderous wheels of a heavily loaded truck. One gland into the livid, distorted features, as she was lifted up, convinced him beyond the shadow of a doubt that the ill-fated woman was Melissa Martin, his own misguided wife. What has, or will be the fate of her companion in ill-doing, no one may know, whether he may be dead or hving, he must some day answer to his account.